

All Trades Paige – Info Sheet

(Inspiring the next generation of tradespeople)

About Paige

Paige Knowles (also known as Plumber Paige) is an author, speaker, and advocate for the skilled trades. With backgrounds in plumbing, HVAC, and construction management. Paige is determined to end the stigma around the skilled trades and inspire young people, schools, and communities to discover opportunities in those careers.

The Skills Gap

Across the country, the skilled trades face a growing challenge: too many open jobs and not enough trained people to fill them. This gap affects businesses, communities, and future generations. My mission is to close the gap by making the trades visible, accessible, and exciting for young people everywhere.

Ways to Partner with Paige:

Books & Education

- Creation of children's books that introduce the trades in fun, approachable ways
- Educational initiatives with schools, nonprofits, and community programs

Speaking & Events

- Keynotes, panels, and workshops for schools, conferences, and industry groups
- Custom presentations to inspire students, professionals, and parents

Content & Media

- Social media collaborations and brand partnerships
- Videos, blogs, and digital resources highlighting the trades

Community & Mentorship

- Volunteer projects and trade camps
- Industry mentorship and youth outreach

Why Work With Paige?

- Engages audiences of all ages with relatable storytelling
- Bridges the gap between industry and the next generation
- Proven track record as a published author, speaker, and trades professional

Next Steps

For partnership details, pricing, or custom opportunities, reach out directly:

 alltradespaige@gmail.com

 www.alltradespaige.com

 Socials: @AllTradesPaige

⚡ Together, we can build the future of the skilled trades. ⚡